

VILLA MARCHES TO RAID BORDER, CARRANZA SAYS

Information Rushed to Funston, with Orders to Increase Defense Guard.

WORD FROM MEXICO

Bandit Said to Have Been Heavily Re-enforced for Attack on U. S.

ARREDONDO BRINGS ADVICES

Soldiers of First Chief Told to Co-operate with American Troopers in Repelling Marauding Hordes.

Villa and his marauding bandits are preparing to cross the border for another attack on the United States.

Acting Secretary of State Polk has been warned of the impending trouble by Eliseo Arredondo, the Mexican Ambassador designate.

Arredondo's information comes direct from Gen. Carranza and is said to be authentic.

Following the receipt of this information, word was immediately rushed to Gen. Funston and extra precautions are being taken to guard the border against assault.

The force under the bandit chief is said to be considerably stronger than that of those which have been harassing the de facto government, and is the same band which last week administered a decisive defeat to the Carranza troops at Chihuahua.

Villa has been slowly rounding up these marauding bands until he now has an army of commanding size, well equipped with ammunition.

It is understood that the Carranzista forces are ready to co-operate with the United States army to repel the raiders. Troops of the de facto government stationed at Boquilla have been ordered by Carranza to co-operate with the American forces as it is believed that the Villa bandits will attack that point or its vicinity.

Wants Conference.

In his visit to the State Department yesterday Ambassador Arredondo endeavored to arrange for conferences between the two governments, looking to an adjustment of the border differences.

Recent reports have placed Villa lieutenants in the vicinity of Boquilla and reports sent to Gen. Funston indicate that the bandit leaders may mobilize his ruffians and concentrate an attack on some point near this portion of the border. Carranza has information that the Villa forces are proceeding to the north and his warning yesterday is believed to fix the Villistas within fifty miles of the American forces.

Germans Plan Air Trips to America

Trans-Atlantic Zeppelin Service Said to Be Next Teutonic Attempt.

(By the Sun News Service.) Amsterdam, July 10.—There is a gigantic scheme on foot in Germany for the formation of a "trans-Atlantic Zeppelin freight and passenger service," according to information obtained exclusively from an authentic German source here today.

The first airship, one of the new type of super-Zeppelins, will arrive at an American port some time in the middle of August if the plans now under consideration materialize. Its name will be "Z-Deutschland." Upon its trial trip will depend the formation of the trans-Atlantic service. Like the U-boat Deutschland, the Zeppelin of the same name will carry a large cargo of dyes and chemicals, mails, and possibly some passengers.

Vote Next Week on Bill To Give Ireland Home Rule

(By the Sun News Service.) London, July 10.—Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons today that the bill for the establishment of a government for Ireland as agreed to by the bulk of the Nationalists and Unionists, will be submitted to Parliament next week. He urged the house to lend its support to the bill, emphasizing that the present opportunity may never recur. "The dominating factor," said he, "which made us all willing to become parties or sponsors to this measure, is the war."

The bill will contain the provision for the exclusion of the six Ulster counties. Under the proposed plan the military and naval forces remain under the control of the imperial Parliament. The im-

JURY EXPECTED TO GET ORPET CASE SATURDAY

(By the Sun News Service.) Waukegan, Ill., July 10.—Will H. Orpet today was painted a murderer before the jury trying him for the death of Marion Lambert by Eugene M. Runyard, assistant State's attorney.

Prosecutor Runyard began the closing arguments to the jury, blaming Orpet for the girl's fall, and placing the legal responsibility for her death upon the boy's shoulders. He reviewed the love affair of the two, and went over the entire evidence which had been presented during the last four weeks of the trial.

The State will require two more days and the defense three. It is expected the case will go to the jury Saturday.

PARALYSIS PLAGUE ON INCREASE IN NEW YORK

(By the Sun News Service.) New York, July 10.—There were only fourteen deaths from infantile paralysis during the last twenty-four hours, compared with nineteen yesterday. There was an increase, however, in the number of new cases, 103 having been reported. Sixty-eight of those are in Brooklyn, and thirty in Manhattan. The total death toll of the epidemic thus far is 238. Altogether, 1,063 have been infected.

Health Commissioner Emerson was optimistic today for the first time since the plague began. Six thousand street cleaners have been put to work to clear up and sluice all the city thoroughfares. The police are on a sharp lookout for all offenders of the sanitation laws. In the Tombs Police Court alone today there were 148 violators arraigned.

HOLDS NEW "SUB" ROUTE WILL NOT SAVE KAISER

(By the Sun News Service.) Chicago, July 10.—The present drive marks the beginning of the end of the war. All the submarines that Germany can send under the seas will not affect the final issue. The allies have enough ammunition stacked up to keep up the present rate of firing without manufacturing another shell in the next six months.

In these words Baron Le Fevre, of Paris, fresh from the European trenches, familiar with the inner diplomatic circles of Paris and London, today gave his views of the present status of affairs in the world struggle.

"I do not say that the end of the war is yet in sight," he said, "as it is too early in the game to make such a statement. However, the present allied drive by England, France and Russia, does mark the beginning of what we believe will prove to be the end."

FORD SAYS HE WON'T RUN AGAINST WILSON

(By the Sun News Service.) Detroit, Mich., July 10.—Henry Ford, one of the reception committee to greet President Wilson, today awaited his coming at the depot with great interest. In answer to a question he said:

"I would not consent to run for President against Woodrow Wilson. He is on to the interests and is not afraid to talk back to them. And he has maintained peace."

The President made a hasty trip to the Ford plant this afternoon. On the front of the building hung a great banner on which were the words:

"Our hats off to the President who has kept us out of war."

TEUTONIC SONS DENOUNCE T. R. AS A "MENACE"

Colonel's Anti-German Utterances Alleged to Be "Conceived of Hypocrisy."

ATTACKED AT CHICAGO

Former President's Epithet, "Byzantine Logothete," Is Hurlled Back by Germans.

SEND STATEMENT IN LETTER

Declare "Outbursts" Born of "Insincerity and Fraud," and Say "He Leads British 'American Legion.'"

(By the Sun News Service.) Chicago, July 10.—Theodore Roosevelt was called a "most dangerous menace to the peace and integrity of the United States," and the epithet "Byzantine logothete" was hurled back into his teeth in the course of a verbal blast at the national council of the Teutonic Sons of America, in executive session here today.

The attack took the form of a letter addressed to the Colonel, through G. F. Hummel, national president of the organization. The epistle set forth that at its meeting the national council had resolved that Col. Roosevelt's reported outbursts against what he calls "professional German-Americanism," are, if true, "conceived of hypocrisy and born of insincerity and fraud." The letter continues:

"Your voice brazenly raised against an honorable and always highly appreciated element of American citizenship vies in vehemence and shallowness with the fanaticism of him whom you are pleased to call a 'Byzantine logothete.'"

Give Roosevelt Warning.

"You have provoked a war in America which, but for the loyalty, the decency, the intelligence of our portion of the American citizenry, would even now be raging with a fury and violence compared to which the civil war would assume the aspect of a street brawl."

"It was your vociferous pronouncement against hyphenated Americanism at a time when hyphenism was not known, excepting to Oxfordian graduates and Carnegie scholars, that fanned the flame of this race war in the United States, and that keeps it alive today."

"But, thank God, we have the situation quite well in hand and we feel reasonably certain of our power to prevent the cataclysm which you and yours would pull down over this country. You have thrown the gage of mortal strife."

Provoked a War.

"It is your political lie against the honor of the German-Americans. And to loyal American hearts we come out to give battle to his Brittanic Majesty's 'American legions' under your leadership, and we hereby unequivocally denounce you and declare you not only a 'Byzantine logothete,' but a most dangerous menace to the peace and the integrity of the United States of America."

Douglas, Ariz., July 10.—"All danger of war with the United States has passed," is the substance of a telegram sent by Gen. Obregon to Gen. Calles, who thus informed heads of American mining companies operating in Sonora today.

HOUSE PASSES REVENUE BILL

Designed to Raise $200,000,000, Measure Gets Through Almost Intact.

DEMOCRATS VOTE SOLIDLY, AIDED BY 39 REPUBLICANS

The Democratic revenue bill, designed to raise approximately $200,000,000 additional revenue, passed the House last night by a vote of 240 to 140. Democratic members voted solidly and thirty-nine Republicans and one Independent supported the bill.

The minority succeeded in amending the bill in several particulars, but no vital change was made, except that relating to the levy of special internal taxes. The House struck from this section the tax on bankers.

Several changes were made in the tariff commission section. The salaries of the commissioners were reduced from $10,000 to $7,500 and the prohibition against former members of Congress serving on the commission was eliminated.

During the debate Representative Hill, of Connecticut, sought to increase the duties on dyestuffs. His effort failed, but he said the arrival of the Deutschland, with a cargo of dyes, indicated the determination of Germany to retain control of the dyestuffs industry.

Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin furnished most of the Republican votes in favor of the Democratic bill. Four minority members of the Ways and Means Committee supported the bill.

Representative Fitzgerald, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, rallied a few Democrats and practically all of the Republicans to put through an amendment striking out the provision for a "permanent" appropriation of $300,000 per year for the expenses of the tariff commission. This change was made on a viva voce vote.

COURT ORDER TOO LATE.

Father Kills Self Before Learning He Can See Sons.

Detroit, Mich., July 10.—"Too late" might be marked on the court order which Judge Murphy handed to Justice Ott today directing Mrs. Lapanski to allow her husband, Paul, an interview with his two sons.

Before the father could be notified by the justice court he had sent a bullet through his brain. Loneliness and grief over the separation from his two boys caused him to end his life.

FAST FLEET OF MOTORBOATS TO RUN DOWN "SUB"

Britain Sending Speedy Squadron to Capture Deutschland.

BIG CORDON OFF CAPES

Submersible Will Try Ninety-Mile Dive Into Atlantic to Escape.

GERMAN OFFICERS HOPEFUL

Plan to Submerge to Depth of 100 Feet in Effort to Elude Naval Pursuers of Entente.

With all the might of gigantic naval strength, the British Lion is planning to wipe the German submarine, the Deutschland, from the seas.

Already, the British admiralty is forming a cordon of warships outside the three-mile limit, off the Virginia capes, and according to word which reached Washington last night, a fleet of fast, armed motor-boats will be rushed across the Atlantic, probably under convoy, to aid in the smashing of the intrepid submarine.

When Capt. Paul Koenig, commander of the Deutschland, turns the nose of his great undersea boat down the bay and heads for the open sea, he will be heading for a possible fight with every available naval weapon the entente can bring to bear.

Have Worked in Channel.

Five hundred of these motor boats have done excellent work in the British channel, it is said. They came originally from the United States, unarmed, and have been mounted with three-inch guns and their crews put through special training to detect and run down undersea craft. There is likelihood that they may be seen in operation against submarines near the three-mile limit line if the undersea trade route between Bremen and American ports continues. Opinion here is that these small craft will be likely to prove more effective "submarine catchers" than powerful, but bulky cruisers.

Secrecy is maintained as to just what measures Great Britain is taking to establish a cordon of vessels off the coast. The German officers are aware of these plans but will rely on the invisibility of the Deutschland to evade them. Naval officers here do not, however, share the opinion advanced by these officers that it will be a very simple matter to escape. They are skeptical about the ability of the Deutschland to remain four days under water.

Must Avoid Riptide.

The necessity of running deeply submerged is to eliminate the ripple of the periscope. With weather and sea conditions favorable, the submarine can probably proceed at reduced speed forty or fifty feet under water without leaving a trace on the surface. But with a calm sea and enemy craft on the lookout the danger would be accentuated. In the United States navy the latest submarines can submerge 200 feet and safely stand the pressure. Latest reports from Germany indicate that the German submarines do not submerge more than 100 feet.

The announced intention of the officers of the Deutschland to make good their escape from Baltimore is to submerge while within the three-mile limit and reappear after a ninety-mile submerged run at some point where there will be no British warcraft.

Periscope Would Show.

Before coming to the surface the periscope will presumably show whether the sea is clear of hostile ships, it is said, and the Deutschland will therefore not be exposed to risk.

If the Deutschland is obliged to lose too much distance in escaping, she may face the dangers of a shortage of fuel. And this, it is explained, would make capture certain.

The question of whether British warships can, under international law, fire at the Deutschland without warning is still discussed by officials here. As a merchant ship, the Deutschland is entitled presumably to the same privileges as any other merchant vessel.

AIRCRAFT RAID TWICE.

London Told Teutons Did Little Damage.

London, July 10.—Two air raids by the Germans yesterday and last night resulted in no casualties of any kind, the admiralty announced today. The following official statement was issued:

"The first raid was pursued by naval aircraft and was fired at by anti-aircraft guns. The second aircraft raid dropped seven explosive bombs. They effected no damage beyond breaking the windows. The raider escaped."

FISH POISONS 40 TROOPERS

Canned Salmon Sends Massachusetts Infantrymen to Hospital at El Paso.

ATE BAD FOOD ON SUNDAY; NEARLY ALL WILL RECOVER

(By Sun News Service.) El Paso, Tex., July 10.—Forty militiamen of Company L, Ninth Massachusetts Infantry, were stricken with ptomaine poisoning early today and are still in the field hospital. Major Fred L. Bogart, of Boston, commanding the regiment hospital corps, declared most of the men would recover. Poisoning was traced to canned salmon.

In addition to the National Guard troops, which are estimated at about 15,000, there are 5,000 regular troops along the border near here. The First Pennsylvania artillery regiment reached the border this morning, after being delayed by a freight wreck.

Plans for the biggest war game ever undertaken in the United States are now being given the finishing touches at Gen. George Bell's headquarters at Fort Bliss. Before battle practice begins, two weeks will be allowed the militia regiments for drill, preparation of camp, and the acclimating of the men.

INITIAL TRIP PAYS FOR 'SUB'

Deutschland Cost $500,000 and Trip Earns Much More

SECOND SUBMERSIBLE DECLARED TO BE ON WAY

(By the International News Service.) Baltimore, Md., July 10.—With $1,000,000 worth of highly concentrated dye still packed in her hold, the pioneer of submersible merchantmen, wonder ship of the great war, lies at her specially prepared wharf, strongly guarded by police.

Her commander and his officers are frankly delighted and a little surprised at the hearty welcome they have received.

Carefully inspected by an agent of the Department of Justice, as well as by the surveyor of the port, the Deutschland has had no trouble in demonstrating her peaceful character. Her sole armament consists of four revolvers, the personal toys of officers. Collector Ryan's report to Washington places the Deutschland unquestionably in the merchantman class.

More than paid for her construction. Her commander, Capt. Paul Koenig, said so yesterday. The cost of building her was $500,000, which is easily wiped out by the profit to be derived from her $1,000,000 cargo.

The second vessel of the submarine fleet, the Bremen, may be looked for along the coast in about eight weeks, according to Capt. Koenig.

Permission to do so was granted by Collector of Customs Ryan. The dispatches will be immediately forwarded to Ambassador von Bernstorff.

FRENCH SMASH THROUGH LINE; BRITISH HELD

Allied Offensive Honors Go to Gen. Foch's Army of Veterans.

GERMANS FIGHT HARD

Kaiser's Troops Concentrate Efforts Against Sir Douglas Haig's Troops.

DESPERATE BATTLE IN WOODS

Teuton War Office Claims Successful Resistance to All Attacks Launched by Enemy Forces.

(By the Sun News Service.) London, July 10.—Again the British and French forces rushed forward against the German positions on the Somme with the appearance of daylight this morning. Again the French carried by storm a number of strong positions and extended their lines menacing closer to the fortress of Peronne, while the British made only slight progress and suffered a reverse in the Trones wood. Once more the laurels of the day's fighting rest with Gen. Foch's army.

It must be emphasized, however, that the chief reason for this constant advance on the part of the French and the slow progress of the British, is the fact that the Germans concentrate the whole fury of their counter-offensive operations upon Gen. Sir Douglas Haig's troops, practically ignoring the French. The Teutons seem bent upon holding the British back at all cost, hoping the French progress will automatically cease.

Developments of Day.

Army of Gen. Foch: Straightened out its line between the villages of Biaches and Barleux, took a strongly defended German field work in this area, and captured 10 officers and 100 men; captured Hill 97, a height southeast of Biaches, dominating the river; captured the Malsouette farm, situated on the summit of the hill; captured a small wood to the north of the farm, but were checked at the redoubt situated at the extremity of the wood.

Army of Gen. Sir Douglas Haig: Gained a foothold in the Mametz wood which had been under their attack for nearly a week; gained some ground east of Ovillers village, and east of La Boisselle; lost a portion of the Trones wood after the Germans had launched five "desperate attacks." "The ground was yielded at the expense of very heavy casualties," the British night report says.

Stubborn Fight in Woods.

It is in the Trones wood that the Germans have been putting up one of the most stubborn fights since the Somme drive began. The Germans have converted it into a veritable labyrinth of trenches and wire entanglements.

The German war office today claims that all French and British attacks on the Somme failed ultimately. Wherever a temporary foothold was gained by the allies, German counter-attacks "quickly ejected the enemy," the statement asserts.

Russians Forcing Stubborn Retreat

Austro-Germans, Slowly Pushed Back, Burning All Bridges Behind Them.

(By the Sun News Service.) London, July 10.—Under tremendous difficulties placed in their way by the retreating Teutons, the Russians are now crossing the Stokhod River at various points on both sides of the Sarny-Kovel Railway, the war office announced tonight. The Austrian-German forces are defending every inch of ground and where forced to retreat are burning the bridges behind them.

Between July 4 and 8 the Russians took 241 officers and 9,345 men prisoners, and captured a large amount of guns and material. The number given is in addition to the 12,000 men and 200 officers reported captured last Saturday.

America Arranging Chinese Loan to Restore Prestige

The administration, through Assistant Secretary of State Phillips, has opened negotiations with J. P. Morgan & Co. and other New York bankers to re-establish the prestige of the United States in the Far East by meeting China's desire to effect an American loan.

Assistant Secretary Phillips has just returned from New York, where he has been in conference with the bankers. He has assured that the United States government is now ready to lend a friendly ear to these projects and has emphasized the advantages which might result to China and to the United States.
